Rabbi Sharon Brous
HANS W. LOEWALD MEMORIAL AWARD

Sharon Brous is the senior and founding rabbi of IKAR, an LA-based Jewish community dedicated to re-animating religious life in a time of disaffection and declining affiliation. Her book, The Amen Effect: Ancient Wisdom to Mend Our Broken Hearts and World, will be coming out January 2024. Brous's 2016 TED talk, Reclaiming Religion, has been viewed by 1.5 million people and translated into 23 languages.

Francisco J. González, M.D.
DISTINGUISHED PSYCHOANALYTIC EDUCATOR

Francisco J. González, MD, is Personal & Supervising Analyst, Community Psychoanalysis Supervising Analyst, and Faculty at the Psychoanalytic Institute of Northern California (PINC), where he also helped found and serves as Co-Director of the Community Psychoanalysis Track. He serves on the editorial boards of Psychoanalytic Dialogues and JAPA and on the Holmes Commission on Racial Equality in the American Psychoanalytic Association.

David Naimon
DISTINGUISHED PSYCHOANALYTIC EDUCATOR

David Naimon is the host of the long-form literary podcast Between the Covers and co-author with Ursula K. Le Guin of Ursula K. Le Guin: Conversations on Writing. His own writing can be found widely and has been recognized in Best Spiritual Literature, Best American Mystery & Suspense, Best American Essays and the Pushcart Prize anthology, among many other places.

Stuart Perlman, Ph.D.
DISTINGUISHED PSYCHOANALYTIC EDUCATOR

Stuart Perlman, Ph.D., a psychologist/psychoanalyst, has published 28 articles on trauma and 3 books. Stuart has painted and interviewed 250 people experiencing homelessness, illuminating their humanity. Fine Art Connoisseur magazine calls these portraits, "Great Art Worldwide." This project has been covered internationally and seen in 68 exhibitions. The NAAP awarded his documentary, "Best Movie." Stuart was LACPA's "Social Justice Award" winner and was honored by the Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors. Many portraits are in his book, Open Your Heart Through Art: Painting Human Souls.